SCOTT MACKENZIE

TravelCodex.com is a destination for news and advice on travel, specifically its relation to loyalty programs, new cabin products, and new destinations.

As a frequent traveler who books over 200,000 miles each year, Scott has experience advising his readers on the best opportunities to spend their cash or miles for a premium travel experience. He speaks regularly at events such as Frequent Traveler University and is fond of creating technical guides that teach people how to search for flights, hotels, and other travel information. In addition to publishing Travel Codex, Scott serves as Global Editor of InsideFlyer.com.
